

The State of Antisemitism in America 2025: Comparing American Jews and the General Public

American Jewish Committee (AJC) is the global advocacy organization for the Jewish people. Below is a comparison of the Survey of American Jews and the Survey of the General Public from AJC’s State of Antisemitism in America 2025 Report.

AJC’s State of Antisemitism in America 2025 Report: Survey of American Jews, conducted by the research company SSRS, is based on interviews conducted online and by telephone from September 26 - October 29, 2025, among a nationally representative sample of 1,222 Jews aged 18 or older. Online interviews were conducted via the SSRS Opinion Panel^[1], as well as with additional sample; telephone interviews were conducted via SSRS Omnibus callback sample^[2]. The margin of error for total respondents is +/-3.7 percentage points at the 95% confidence level. Find the methodology report here.

AJC’s State of Antisemitism in America 2025 Report: Survey of the General Public, conducted by the research company SSRS, is based on interviews with U.S. adults that were conducted from October 3 – October 5, 2025, among a nationally representative sample of 1,033 respondents aged 18 and older via the SSRS Opinion Omnibus Panel^[3]. The margin of error is +/-3.4 percentage points at the 95% confidence level. Find the methodology report here.

AJC is a non-partisan organization that neither supports nor endorses candidates for elective office.

^[1] SSRS Opinion Panel members are recruited randomly based on nationally representative ABS (Address Based Sample) design (including Hawaii and Alaska). Additionally, the SSRS Opinion Panel has recruited hard-to-reach demographic groups via the SSRS Telephone Omnibus survey platform. Prior to July 2019, the SSRS Opinion Panel was recruited entirely from the SSRS Telephone Omnibus. For more information: <https://ssrs.com/opinion-panel/>.

^[2] This was a prescreened sample from our Telephone Omnibus survey, which was a national, weekly dual-frame bilingual telephone survey designed to meet standards of quality associated with custom research studies. Similar to previous surveys, we included samples where someone in the household had been identified as Jewish in a previous Omnibus survey.

^[3] The SSRS Opinion Panel Omnibus is a national, twice-per-month, probability-based survey that is conducted via self-administered web surveys and telephone interviews, using sample from the SSRS Opinion Panel. SSRS Opinion Panel members are recruited randomly based primarily on nationally representative ABS (Address Based Sample) design (including Hawaii and Alaska).
